

MEET YOUR LEGISLATORS

27th Legislative District

State Senator
Yasmin Trudeau
(D)

Senator Trudeau was born into poverty and violence, spent time in the foster care system and faced housing insecurity throughout her youth and early adulthood.

She was the Legislative and Tribal Affairs Director for the WA Attorney General's Office and worked with agencies, legislators, and community partners to pass legislation addressing student loan supports, prohibiting youth solitary confinement, strengthening Medicaid fraud enforcement, among many others.

Her committees include Law & Justice (Vice Chair), Environment, Energy & Technology, and Housing. She is one of the two Senate Democrats negotiating the Capital Budget.

State Representative
Laurie Jinkins
(D - position 1)

Representative Jinkins was the first woman and first out lesbian Speaker of the House.

She started her career litigating child abuse and neglect cases for the state Attorney General's Office. She then shifted her career toward public health, serving as an assistant secretary of health at the state Department of Health, and now as Senior Advisor at the Tacoma-Pierce County Health Department. She has been active in advancing Washington's anti-discrimination laws both prior to and during her time in the House.

She chairs the Rules Committee and previously served on the Appropriates, Health Care & Wellness, and Civil Rights & Judiciary Committees (Chair).

State Representative
Jake Fey
(D - position 2)

Representative Fey's experience in the YMCA Youth and Government program pointed him early on toward a life of public service.

He served as the Director of the WSU Energy program, providing leadership in alternative-energy and energy-efficiency, was a Tacoma City Councilmember, served as a member of the Sound Transit and Pierce Transit Boards, and as Vice Chair of the Puget Sound Clean Air Agency. One of his top priorities in the legislature is ensuring a cleaner, more sustainable transportation system for our state.

His committees include Transportation (Chair) and Environment & Energy.
