

MEET YOUR LEGISLATORS

2nd Legislative District

State Senator
Jim McCune
(R)

Senator McCune is a lifelong resident of Washington State; son of a World War II veteran; father of three young men.

Active church member, former Awana leader, Boy Scoutmaster, member of Kiwanis and Optimists' Clubs, and Big Brother. Also coached high school basketball for ten years.

He serves on the Law and Justice (Assistant Ranking), Early Learning and K-12 Education, Human Services, and Reentry and Rehabilitation Committees.

State Representative
Andrew Barkins
(R - position 1)

Representative Barkins's personal knowledge, experience, and leadership as a local business owner foster his priority to address the housing and homelessness crisis that continues to shadow Washington state. His focus is to increase housing supply by removing barriers to people's ability to obtain affordable housing.

He serves as the ranking Republican on the House Transportation Committee. As one of the state's transportation budget leaders, he is the voice for fiscal responsibility, reform, and reprioritization. He also prioritizes fighting the state's drug epidemic by supporting law enforcement efforts.

State Representative
J.T. Wilcox
(R - position 2)

Representative J.T. Wilcox grew up on his family farm in rural Pierce County, where he still lives today.

For 23 years, J.T. was employed at his 5th generation family business, Wilcox Farms. He has served as Chairman of Milk-Pep, the national "Got Milk" program, with a $100 million annual budget. As well as, served as the Chairman of the Washington Holstein Association, the Washington Poultry Industry Association, and sat on the boards of the Washington Egg Commission and the International Dairy Foods Association.

He serves on the Appropriations, Finance, Labor & Workplace, and Standards Committees.
