

MEET YOUR LEGISLATORS

32nd Legislative District

State Senator
Jesse Salomon
(D)

Senator Salomon served on the Shoreline City Council and currently works part-time as a public defender. He is on the Hate Crimes Task Force to strengthen our approach to reducing racism, homophobia, and related bias crimes and incidents. He is a champion for the environment, youth and children, and justice system reform. His sponsored bills include ensuring the safety of employees during pandemics and emergencies, preventing license suspensions for low-income Washingtonians, and more.

His committees include Agriculture, Water, Natural Resources & Parks (Vice Chair), Local Government, Land Use & Tribal Affairs (Vice Chair), Law & Justice, and Rules.

State Representative
Cindy Ryu
(D - position 1)

Representative Ryu advocates for small business owners, public schools, public transportation, environmental and consumer protection, affordable housing, homeownership and public safety. While a Shoreline City Council member, she became the first Korean American woman mayor in America.

Her committees include Appropriations, Consumer Protection & Business, Innovation Community & Economic Development, & Veterans (Chair) - this committee considers issues relating to economic development, including small business assistance and financing; international trade; tourism; parks and recreation; telecommunications; Military, emergency preparedness, response, resiliency and more.

State Representative
Lauren Davis
(D - position 2)

Representative Davis's work centers on behavioral health treatment, recovery and criminal legal system reform. She founded and is the current Strategy Director of the Washington Recovery Alliance - a grassroots movement of those impacted by addiction and mental health challenges driving large-scale change in public policy and public understanding. She led efforts to pass 2016's Ricky's Law to create a crisis treatment system for youth and adults with life-threatening addiction and helped to launch Forefront, a suicide prevention nonprofit.

Her committees include Appropriations, Community Safety, Justice, & Reentry, Health Care & Wellness, and Rules.
